

Multi Agency Risk Assessment Conferences (MARAC)

Aims

To provide participants with an understanding of the reasons for assessing the levels of risk to victims of domestic violence & all forms of domestic abuse;
To illustrate how professionals and agencies all have a statutory duty in this process;
To provide an awareness of MARAC's (Multi Agency Risk Assessment Conferences) and how each agency may contribute;
Demonstrate the need for clear risk assessment for victims of domestic violence at very high risk of harm & for us as professionals.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of the programme participants will have an understanding of

- The importance of risk assessment for domestic violence victims;
- How and when the domestic violence risk assessment tool should be used;
- How to complete and progress the risk assessment tool;
- The MARAC process and how their particular agency or own role contributes to it, sufficiently enough to cascade to members of their team;
- The benefits of effective partnership working.
