Please could you advise of your policy or approach on the policing of the Pressure Systems Safety Regulations 2000 (PSSR) in relation to in scope commercial coffee machines sited within coffee shops, cafes, restaurants, pubs and hotels and such in your region?

If you have a better person of contact regarding this, please could you provide their contact email?

Response

We don't have a specific policy regarding Commercial Coffee Machines.

Where we are notified or become aware that a pressure vessel has failed an examination by a competent person/ or not been examined, we take appropriate action to ensure that the equipment is not used until repairs have been completed to the satisfaction of the competent person.
