Trees and Woodlands - 1 FTE Officer

The below response includes the ability to consult with statutory and non-statutory consultees in the planning process and, depending on the merits of the case, may not be exhaustive:

In regard to heritage, and where appropriate, the Council can consult and take advice from Historic England, the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings, Historic Buildings & Places, the Council for British Archaeology, the Georgian Group, The Victorian Society, The Twentieth Century Society, Greater Manchester Archaeological Advisory Service.

The Council consults the Greater Manchester Ecology Unit on ecology related matters. The Environment Agency and Natural England can also be consulted on these grounds when undertaking assessments on planning proposals.

Entry level planners

- Do you fund entry level planning staff to undergo university courses or apprenticeships?
- If yes, how many entry level planners have you provided such funding for in the last 5 years?

Yes

Case loads

What was the average annual case load that planning officers in your planning enforcement/development management teams were carrying in the financial years

- a) 2020/21
- b) 2022/23
- c) 2024/25

This information is not held in the form requested, but at the point of compiling this response, in the most basic form the DM Case Officers, as a team, had 306 open planning cases (not including pre-application cases or condition discharge requests).

The Planning Enforcement Team had 192 investigations open (not including those which had progressed to the serving of a formal Notice).

Local Plan

Does your council have an up to date local plan? If it does, when was it last formally approved?

Yes – further details can be found on the Council's website at the following link:
