

Request

1. How many landlords have been issued a bill with the second home council tax premium for a void period on their rental property?
2. How many landlords have challenged a bill with the second home council tax premium for a void period on their rental property?

Time period - from March 2025 to present.

Response

1. We are unable to provide the information requested, as we do not record the tenure of a property. Specifically, we do not hold data indicating whether it is a landlord or a tenant who is liable for the Council Tax premium on second homes.
2. We are unable to provide the information requested, as we do not record the tenure of a property. Additionally, we do not hold data identifying whether a landlord or tenant has challenged a Council Tax bill relating to the second home premium during a void period on a rental property. Challenges to the premium may result in various outcomes, such as a change in liability to another customer, reclassification of the property, or no change at all. These outcomes are not recorded in a way that allows us to extract the specific information requested.
