HR/Wi/4/78/1 Billinge Infirmary, Wigan Union, Creed Register
Billinge Infirmary was established as the Infirmary for the Wigan Poor Law Union, and opened in 1910. It received many patients directly from the Wigan Work House. As no records of admission to the Work House survive for Wigan for this period, these Creed Registers are an important source of information on those individuals admitted to the care of the Poor Law Union.
Produced by Archives & Local Studies Volunteers, Jenny Todhunter and John Green

HR/Wi/4/78/1 Billinge Infirmary, Wigan Union, Creed Register
Billinge Infirmary was established as the Infirmary for the Wigan Poor Law Union, and opened in 1910. It received many patients directly from the Wigan Work House. As no records of admission to the Work House survive for Wigan for this period, these Creed Registers are an important source of information on those individuals admitted to the care of the Poor Law Union.
Produced by Archives & Local Studies Volunteers, Jenny Todhunter and John Green

HR/Wi/4/78/1 Billinge Infirmary, Wigan Union, Creed Register
Billinge Infirmary was established as the Infirmary for the Wigan Poor Law Union, and opened in 1910. It received many patients directly from the Wigan Work House. As no records of admission to the Work House survive for Wigan for this period, these Creed Registers are an important source of information on those individuals admitted to the care of the Poor Law Union.

HR/Wi/4/78/1 Billinge Infirmary, Wigan Union, Creed Register
Billinge Infirmary was established as the Infirmary for the Wigan Poor Law Union, and opened in 1910. It received many patients directly from the Wigan Work House. As no records of admission to the Work House survive for Wigan for this period, these Creed Registers are an important source of information on those individuals admitted to the care of the Poor Law Union.
Produced by Archives & Local Studies Volunteers, Jenny Todhunter and John Green
To access the original Creed Registers, 1910-1953, please contact the Archives Service at archives@wigan.gov.uk . Copies of entries from the register can be supplied for a small charge.

HR/Wi/4/78/1 Billinge Infirmary, Wigan Union, Creed Register
Billinge Infirmary was established as the Infirmary for the Wigan Poor Law Union, and opened in 1910. It received many patients directly from the Wigan Work House. As no records of admission to the Work House survive for Wigan for this period, these Creed Registers are an important source of information on those individuals admitted to the care of the Poor Law Union.
Produced by Archives & Local Studies Volunteers, Jenny Todhunter and John Green

HR/Wi/4/78/1 Billinge Infirmary, Wigan Union, Creed Register
Billinge Infirmary was established as the Infirmary for the Wigan Poor Law Union, and opened in 1910. It received many patients directly from the Wigan Work House. As no records of admission to the Work House survive for Wigan for this period, these Creed Registers are an important source of information on those individuals admitted to the care of the Poor Law Union.
Produced by Archives & Local Studies Volunteers, Jenny Todhunter and John Green

HR/Wi/4/78/1 Billinge Infirmary, Wigan Union, Creed Register
Billinge Infirmary was established as the Infirmary for the Wigan Poor Law Union, and opened in 1910. It received many patients directly from the Wigan Work House. As no records of admission to the Work House survive for Wigan for this period, these Creed Registers are an important source of information on those individuals admitted to the care of the Poor Law Union.
Produced by Archives & Local Studies Volunteers, Jenny Todhunter and John Green

HR/Wi/4/78/1 Billinge Infirmary, Wigan Union, Creed Register
Billinge Infirmary was established as the Infirmary for the Wigan Poor Law Union, and opened in 1910. It received many patients directly from the Wigan Work House. As no records of admission to the Work House survive for Wigan for this period, these Creed Registers are an important source of information on those individuals admitted to the care of the Poor Law Union.
Produced by Archives & Local Studies Volunteers, Jenny Todhunter and John Green

HR/Wi/4/78/1 Billinge Infirmary, Wigan Union, Creed Register
Billinge Infirmary was established as the Infirmary for the Wigan Poor Law Union, and opened in 1910. It received many patients directly from the Wigan Work House. As no records of admission to the Work House survive for Wigan for this period, these Creed Registers are an important source of information on those individuals admitted to the care of the Poor Law Union.
Produced by Archives & Local Studies Volunteers, Jenny Todhunter and John Green

HR/Wi/4/78/1 Billinge Infirmary, Wigan Union, Creed Register
Billinge Infirmary was established as the Infirmary for the Wigan Poor Law Union, and opened in 1910. It received many patients directly from the Wigan Work House. As no records of admission to the Work House survive for Wigan for this period, these Creed Registers are an important source of information on those individuals admitted to the care of the Poor Law Union.
Produced by Archives & Local Studies Volunteers, Jenny Todhunter and John Green

HR/Wi/4/78/1 Billinge Infirmary, Wigan Union, Creed Register
Billinge Infirmary was established as the Infirmary for the Wigan Poor Law Union, and opened in 1910. It received many patients directly from the Wigan Work House. As no records of admission to the Work House survive for Wigan for this period, these Creed Registers are an important source of information on those individuals admitted to the care of the Poor Law Union.

HR/Wi/4/78/1 Billinge Infirmary, Wigan Union, Creed Register
Billinge Infirmary was established as the Infirmary for the Wigan Poor Law Union, and opened in 1910. It received many patients directly from the Wigan Work House. As no records of admission to the Work House survive for Wigan for this period, these Creed Registers are an important source of information on those individuals admitted to the care of the Poor Law Union.
Produced by Archives & Local Studies Volunteers, Jenny Todhunter and John Green

HR/Wi/4/78/1 Billinge Infirmary, Wigan Union, Creed Register
Billinge Infirmary was established as the Infirmary for the Wigan Poor Law Union, and opened in 1910. It received many patients directly from the Wigan Work House. As no records of admission to the Work House survive for Wigan for this period, these Creed Registers are an important source of information on those individuals admitted to the care of the Poor Law Union.
Produced by Archives & Local Studies Volunteers, Jenny Todhunter and John Green
To access the original Creed Registers, 1910-1953, please contact the Archives Service at archives@wigan.gov.uk . Copies of entries from the register can be supplied for a small charge.

HR/Wi/4/78/1 Billinge Infirmary, Wigan Union, Creed Register
Billinge Infirmary was established as the Infirmary for the Wigan Poor Law Union, and opened in 1910. It received many patients directly from the Wigan Work House. As no records of admission to the Work House survive for Wigan for this period, these Creed Registers are an important source of information on those individuals admitted to the care of the Poor Law Union.
Produced by Archives & Local Studies Volunteers, Jenny Todhunter and John Green

HR/Wi/4/78/1 Billinge Infirmary, Wigan Union, Creed Register
Billinge Infirmary was established as the Infirmary for the Wigan Poor Law Union, and opened in 1910. It received many patients directly from the Wigan Work House. As no records of admission to the Work House survive for Wigan for this period, these Creed Registers are an important source of information on those individuals admitted to the care of the Poor Law Union.
Produced by Archives & Local Studies Volunteers, Jenny Todhunter and John Green
To access the original Creed Registers, 1910-1953, please contact the Archives Service at archives@wigan.gov.uk . Copies of entries from the register can be supplied for a small charge.

HR/Wi/4/78/1 Billinge Infirmary, Wigan Union, Creed Register
Billinge Infirmary was established as the Infirmary for the Wigan Poor Law Union, and opened in 1910. It received many patients directly from the Wigan Work House. As no records of admission to the Work House survive for Wigan for this period, these Creed Registers are an important source of information on those individuals admitted to the care of the Poor Law Union.

HR/Wi/4/78/1 Billinge Infirmary, Wigan Union, Creed Register
Billinge Infirmary was established as the Infirmary for the Wigan Poor Law Union, and opened in 1910. It received many patients directly from the Wigan Work House. As no records of admission to the Work House survive for Wigan for this period, these Creed Registers are an important source of information on those individuals admitted to the care of the Poor Law Union.
Produced by Archives & Local Studies Volunteers, Jenny Todhunter and John Green
To access the original Creed Registers, 1910-1953, please contact the Archives Service at archives@wigan.gov.uk . Copies of entries from the register can be supplied for a small charge.
